Dear Parents, Teachers, and Friends:

We, the graduating class of 1977, would like to say a special "thank-you" to all who have contributed to our growth at Illiana.

Parents, we thank you because you showed concern for our spiritual welfare, and therefore sent us to a Christian school. You even gave us financial help, although this was not always easy.

Teachers, we thank you for taking the initiative to teach us and for keeping God's Word uppermost while you taught. You gave us the opportunities to grow, encouraged our minds to expand, and helped us to develop spiritually.

We also thank the past and present students of Illiana. Past students have set fine examples for us to follow, and the present student body also helps us mature.

Finally, we are thankful to God for giving us the opportunity to have a Christian education in this country, and for sound minds and strong bodies so that we are able to gain knowledge and wisdom. As we leave Illiana, we pray for His continued blessing and for His guidance in using our education to His glory and honor.

Sincerely,

The Class of 1977

"lead a life worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God."

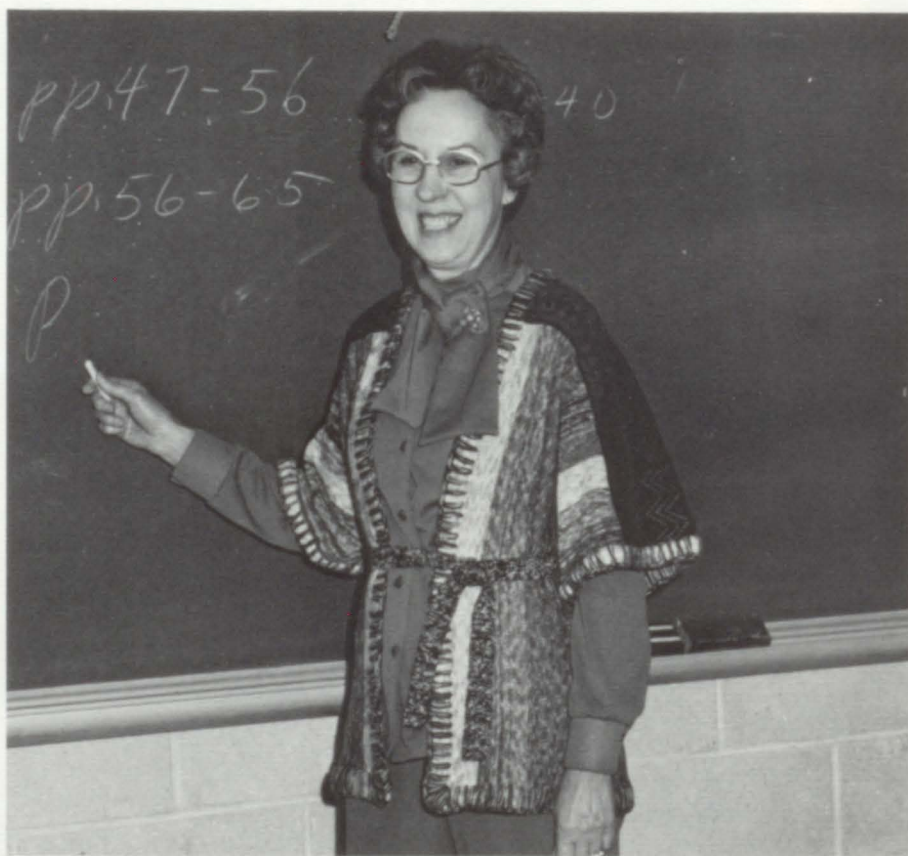

Colossians 1:10

Each year the Spire is dedicated to someone who has devoted much time and effort toward bettering Illiana. This year's Spire is dedicated to you, Miss Schuringa, because you have dedicated yourself to us.

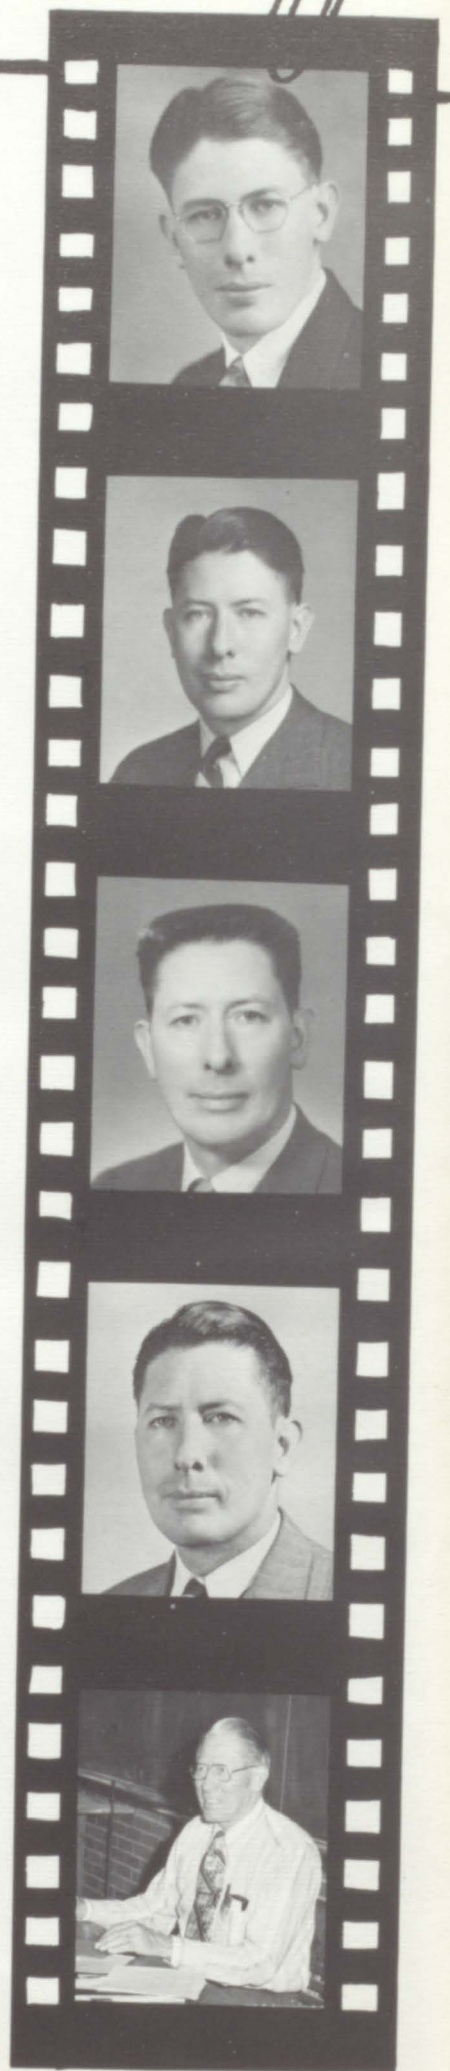

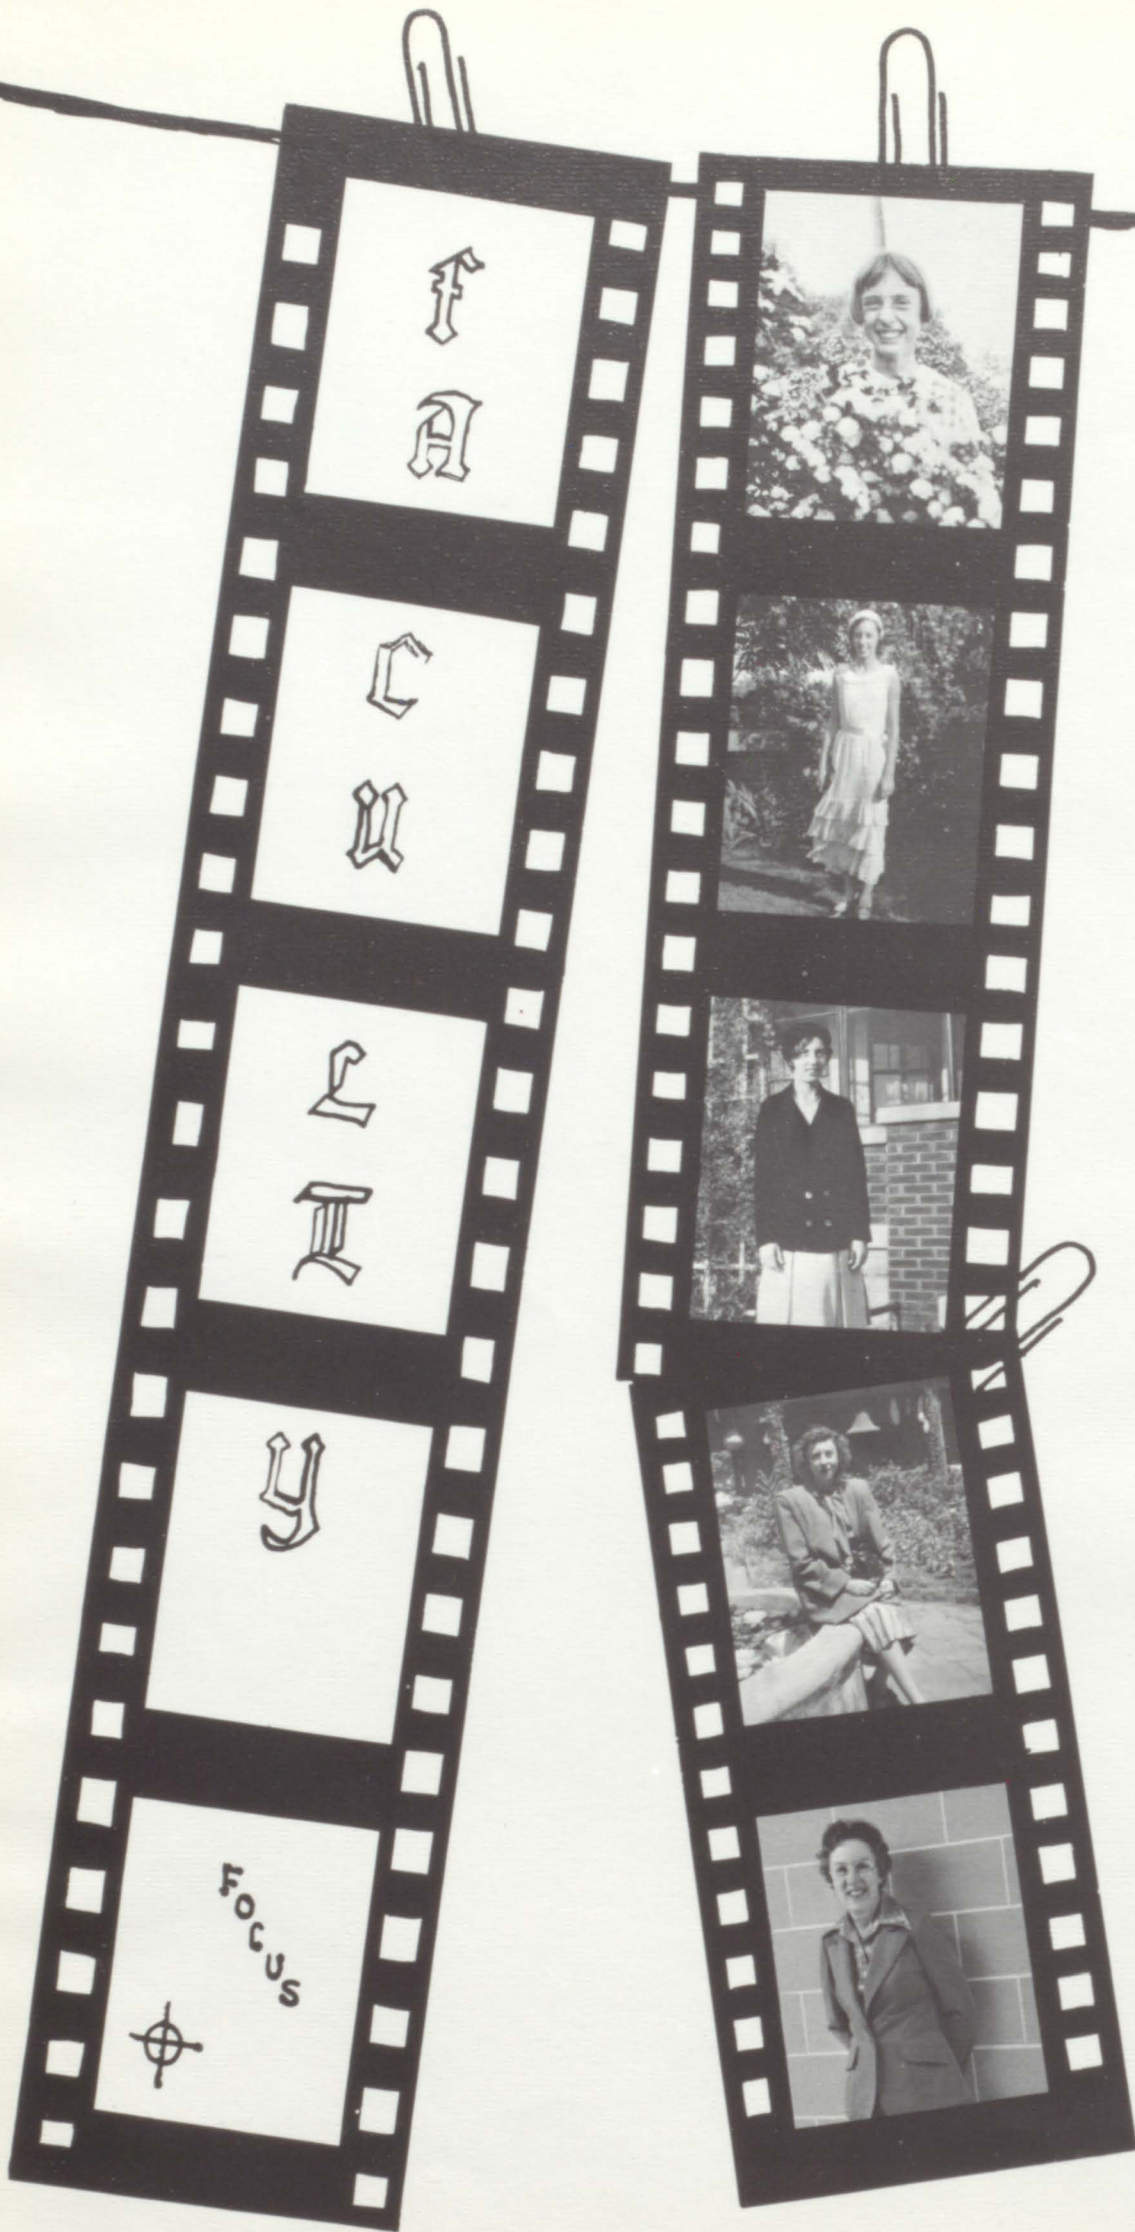

You have helped us become more aware of ourselves and the world around us through your classroom instruction, by which you have given us better insight into our heritage and helped us understand our responsibility as Christian citizens. By your willingness to help with our class projects and by the Christian example you set, we have learned to be patient and to be loving toward our neighbors.

On behalf of all students, past and present, we express gratitude for all your years of service at Illiana, and on behalf of the class of 1977 we would like to express our appreciation for your loyalty to us by dedicating this Spire to you, Miss Schuringa.

Henry Otte

"The secret of education lies in respecting the pupil."

Emerson

Our admiration for Mr. Otte stems from the respect and understanding he shows to the students. He has always lent a sympathetic ear to our needs and grievances; above all, he has been a teacher and friend. Without being aware of it, Mr. Otte has been a catalyst to our spiritual and social growth.

English

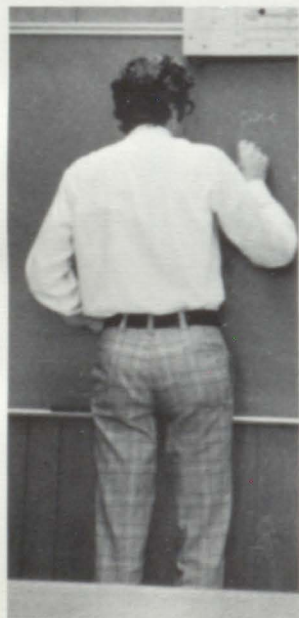

The teachers in the English department have played a big part in preparing us for our life after Illiana, and they have made some lasting impressions on us. Mr. Vande Kopple always impressed us with his modesty and humility in the classroom. We'll remember Miss Edema for her many facial expressions, especially her crossed eyes. Mr. Boerman is, of course, known for his spontaneous desk-top renditions of Shakespeare. We will always picture Mrs. Dykstra sweeping back her lo-o-o-ng hair over her shoulders. Mr. Voetberg was famous for giving quizzes when no one expected them, and requiring long essays from his students. Mr. Huisman will always be remembered as the man with stick in hand and a derogatory word to left-handers. Finally, Miss Nyhoff stands out in our minds as the teacher who we thought was a student.

"What was that snide remark?"

*Dan Walcott
Bible II, IV*

This year brought a new teacher to Illiana's Bible department — Mr. Walcott. We commend him for being a Chapel Committee sponsor and the wrestling coach, besides teaching Bible classes. We also recognize Rev. Bossenbroek, a faculty member of long standing, for his thought-provoking classes on the Bible and the Christian life.

"This is frustrating work!"

Some people believe that being a musical director is an easy task. However, when you look at the jobs of our directors, you'll find their work is not easy. Mr. Bilyeu directs six different bands — Mr. Buursma directs three different choirs and teaches two classes. This means they must get music and materials for these many different groups, and then study it and present it, and they must be able to get 60 or more people to cooperate. This is no easy task at all, and we think our directors have done a fine job.

Math

The math department is characterized by patience. All the teachers patiently tried to put the facts of math into our heads this year while we claimed to be too busy with the facts of life to be bothered with a math assignment every day. But the teachers kept working grading those assignments we handed in and trying to do their best. For example, Mr. Oosting had always dittoed off the senior math assignments himself until this year when he found a book that could meet his standards.

"Mr. Hoeksema, it looks like you have finally finished it."

Heading up the Science Department this year was Mr. Calvin Scott. He has been the head of the department for the past few years, and through his sly humor and informal style of teaching, he has become one of Illiana's more popular teachers. Secondly, Mr. Van Ek's strict style of teaching is Mr. Groen, who is in a class all by himself. He is neither strict nor informal, but seems to be a combination of the best of each.

In the History Dept., we have four very unique teachers. First there is Miss Schuringa, who is famous for her essay tests and her strong stand against gum-chewing. Then there is Mr. Van Dellen, who is well known for his speeches on "How the West was Won" and "The Problems with Mothers-in-Law." We were also blessed with the presence of Mr. Wiers, who has a very business-like classroom manner, and unlike most teachers, always uses his prep period to work. And last but not least was Mr. Moss, the heart throb of the sophomore girls. He insisted on inflicting his senior class trip pictures on all his government classes, much to the dismay of the students.

Business

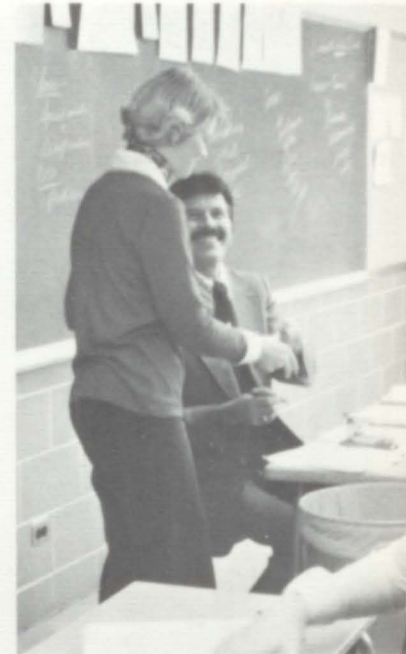

Our business department this year has replaced Mr. De Haan with Mr. Rudenga, who is popular with the Hiking Club for his stories about his college pranks. Mr. De Vries is known for his never being around when you need him and for his never-ending love for sweets. Mr. Spoelstra, the head of the department, is known to his girls for the use of his many colloquialisms.

Phys. Ed.

Physical Education courses gave students an opportunity to build up their bodies and to participate in a large variety of sports. Basic skills were taught in the first-year classes, and later years enabled students to become more proficient in sports. Students were also taught a basic medical and health course along with the usual Physical Education sports.

Art

Art students, under the leadership of Mr. Eriks, were able to improve their talents in the courses. The four art courses covered many forms of art media, such as painting, print making, ceramics, and sculpture. The purpose of the courses is to help the student learn more skills and to be aware from the artist's point of view. Many of the students' talents were made evident by the fine works of art displayed in this year's Fine Arts Festival.

This was the first year in which Illiana had its new Technology Building. The new building contains a lot of standard shop equipment plus other fine industrial equipment, which makes it one of the best Industrial Arts buildings in the Christian schools. The department will continue to grow until we have extensive Industrial Arts curricula. Underclassmen will be able to continue in the more advanced courses which will develop in the future. The courses offered vary from basic technology and mechanical drawing to advanced mechanical projects.

Some of the gifts they gave to the school were flags for the classrooms, C.O.P. materials, chapel and gym banners, black-out shades, warm-up suits, carpeting for the office, and letters for the outside of the gym. They also paid the balance for the new choir robes and for air conditioning in the new banquet room. Many thanks to all who gave of their time!

Student Council

This year the Student Council sponsored its annual activities such as Freshmen Picnic, Student Council Week, Homecoming, and Awards Night Banquet. But there were some new accomplishments. The '76 — '77 council can be remembered for obtaining two foreign exchange students and for sponsoring Illiana's first blood drive.

Chapel Committee

This year the Chapel Committee consisted of Deb Rottier, Becky Smit, Cindy Dekker, Jamie Parkinson, Pam Zeldenrust, Jan Kallemeyn, Gail Toering, Linda Groenewold, with Mr. Walcott and Mr. Boerman as sponsors.

Among the more memorable chapels this year were the quiz show, the choir from Hope College, the folk group from Reformed Bible College, Mr. Boerman's reading of 3rd-grade-level parables, Mr. Walcott and Mr. Van Dellen's talks on human sexuality and Mr. Buursma's and Mr. Bilyeu's performances during Fine Arts Week. Over all, it was a very well planned and enriching chapel year.

Share

Share is a group of Illiana students who give up their Tuesday afternoons to help kids in their studies. The tutors spend time preparing homework assignments such as spelling lists, math problems, and reading selections. The tutors bring treats every once in a while for the kids. Every year the tutors and students have a Christmas party which they all enjoy very much.

Prayer + Share

Prayer and Share is a new Illiana club open to all students. It meets every Tuesday during activity period for a Bible or topical discussion. A few topics discussed were: angels, the judgment, how to be a Christian at Illiana, and how to cope with parents. Each member has a personal prayer partner. Mr. Moss is the sponsor.

The Prayer and Share group grew throughout the year.

Jan listens attentively while Cheryl expounds.

Linda always has something worthwhile to say.

Nat'l Honor Society

The qualifications for membership in the Nat'l Honor Society were changed this year. In past years those students having a grade point average of 3.0 or higher were voted on for their general attitudes by the faculty. Problems arose because some teachers didn't know whom they were voting for. So this year they combined grade point average with activity points.

SPIRE

The Spire staff this year was sponsored by Mr. Vanden Hoek and Mr. Vande Kopple. The rest of the staff consisted of Cheryl Ketelaar, editor; Dan Cooke, asst. editor; Cheryl Van Baren, business manager; Marilou Huizenga, asst. business manager; Marv Jacobs, artist; Wally Swets, artist; Marcia Van Milligan, typist; Jackie Klain, typist; Bev Reitsma, photographer; Gale Fennema, photographer; Tami Van Zuidam, layout; Marj El-lerie, layout; Deb De Jong, layout; Alice Faber, layout; Jeff De Vries, layout; Melissa Pelino, layout; and Lisa Voogd, layout.

AEW Committee

The 1977 AEW Committee.

This year's AEW Committee was comprised of five faculty members: Mr. Oosting, chairman, Mr. Vande-Kopple, Mr. Geerdes, Mr. Wiers, and Miss Leistra; and five Student Council members: Dawn De Vries, student chairman, Cheryl Ketelaar, Steve Wunderink, Steve Kooyenga, and Joyce Wondaal.

The committee worked hard to arrange classes and instructors for these different classes. Then they registered the seven hundred and some odd students in these classes, trying their best to satisfy everyone. After this there was the follow-up work of returning registration sheets to the students and getting class evaluation sheets out. Over all, this year's AEW was a success. Not pictured is Mrs. Boomsma, who was a tremendous help to the committee.

ECHO

The Echo staff is the group of students, under the guidance of Mr. Huisman, that puts out the school newspaper every two to three weeks. Some of the regular features this year were Kevin Boerman's "Footnotes," Daryl Van Schouwen's "Cheapshots," and Melissa Pelino's "Mishya and Reminishya."

Pep Club

The Pep Club is the organization that made the colorful posters and banners that were displayed at each home basketball game. They also helped prepare our pep rallies, which were a definite inspiration to both players and fans. They helped get the fans cheering under the direction of the cheerleaders.

Forensics

The Forensics team involved themselves in many events this year under the leadership of Miss Nyhoff. They presented a very interesting chapel of prayers as a result of work in Readers Theater. Also, they represented Illiana well in numerous forensics meets held throughout northern Indiana and Illinois.

This was the first year for Illiana to have a debate team. The team was comprised of four students. They spent the year practicing and getting acquainted with the forms of debate. They debated on the subject of penal reform. Miss L. Post and members of her team also went to Champagne, Ill., to see formal debating.

"News flash: Illiana's million-dollar gym goes up in smoke. Why?"

"May I be serious with you for a moment?"

As we all know, the Varia committee puts out a book with: short stories, poems, plays, photography, and drawings which are done by the students and then judged. The judge for this year's Varia was Dr. Stanley Wiersma. We feel Illiana's Varia writers are very talented. The Varia is filled with many interesting and exciting things to read. When the Varia comes out, Illiana students forget their homework, classroom duties (that is, listening to their teachers), and some even forget the world around them as they sit down to read such things as "I remember Wilbur" and "Bubbles and Gurgles and Dimples and Sparkles." Many thanks to our Varia committee, who put all these treasures into the VARIA.

Fine Arts Committee

The Fine Arts Committee was very busy this year making schedules for those participating, lining up judges, and encouraging the student body to be involved in Fine Arts Week. The students enjoy this week very much and look forward to getting out of class to watch their fellow students perform. If not for this week, much of the hidden talent would go unnoticed, so thanks to our committee for showing us Illiana's talent, and also for their time and hard work.

Freshmen Choir

#b

To be a member of Illiana's Freshmen Choir, each person must first audition for Mr. Buursma. Being in choir consists of learning how to sight read, participating in school concerts, and possibly performing in churches.

Freshmen Choir is such a "mature" group.

Intermediate Choir

The Intermediate Choir is made up strictly of sophomores. Each member must audition for Mr. Buursma in the spring of the preceding year. The choir's activities include singing in some churches and participating in school concerts.

A Cappella

Choir

The A Cappella Choir is the most experienced choir at Illiana, made up of Juniors and Seniors. The choir's activities included many performances in church services and concerts. Some special activities of the choir were hosting the Unity Choirs from Michigan and Iowa, putting on a banquet to raise money for robes, and a program at the Lansing Sportman's Club.

Choir Banquet

In order to raise money to replace our 15-year-old choir robes, this year's A Cappella Choir gave a Fund-Raising Banquet in February. We were pleased with the crowd that came, and we realized over $1800 in profit, which enabled us to purchase new robes. The choir provided the entertainment for the evening. Included were numbers such as:

"Camelot," "Edelweiss," "Oklahoma," and others. Special selections were performed by Linda Borgman, Dave Klemm, Deb Petrie, Marj El-lerie, and Sharon Lohr.

Sharon Lohr provided dinner music for the evening.

"Someday he'll come along, the man I love."

"Swanee, how I love ya, how I love ya."

"Comes in the mornin', without any warnin'."

Sing for your supper?

There were three concert bands this year: Freshmen band, Concert band, and Symphonic band. Freshmen band didn't have the instrumentation to do a concert on their own, so they studied the same music as Concert band and performed with them.

The Bands performed in the Fall Music Festival with the Choirs. They also gave a Christmas concert along with one for the building dedication. For their spring band concert, they combined and gave a "Sousa Style" concert in which every other piece was a Sousa march. In that concert Ron Ridderbos played a trumpet concerto accompanied by members of the band.

"How did you smuggle in those potato chips?"

"My instrument decided to ditch today, Mr. Bilyeu."

No playing before band!

Marching Band

The banner precedes the band.

The marching band is made up of members of the three concert bands and the cheerleaders.

The band went to Old Chicago and marched through the main hall around the amusement park, then played a half-hour concert inside the park. The whole band was given unlimited rides for the day. The band also marched in the Lansing Good Neighbor parade.

There were two quintets at Illiana this year. The first was made up of girls of different classes. The second was made up of sophomores. Both quintets entered the state solo and ensemble contest and both received ratings of I or superior. The first quintet also played for Fine Arts and for a few church organizations.

There wasn't an organized Brass Ensemble this year. All of those pictured played in a brass ensemble at one time or another and, true to their natures, couldn't decide who to have in the pictures or what instrument to play. One ensemble also participated in the state solo and ensemble contest and played for various school and church functions.

Mr. Bilyeu

Pep Band

The Pep Band, under the direction of band leader Mr. Bilyeu, performed at all the home basketball games and pep rallies this year. They played "The Star Spangled Banner" at every game, while the cheerleaders displayed the American and Christian flags for the audience to turn their attention to.

For the pleasure of the younger set in the audience, the band played such contemporary tunes as the "Theme from Hawaii Five O," "25 or 6 to 4," "Jive Talking" and others. We were also occasionally entertained by Wally Swets wailing on the trap set.

Ssenisub

Ssenisub is composed of various business students at Illiana. The girls meet on Tuesday evenings and have speakers come and talk about their particular jobs. Once a year, Illiana alumni come back to Illiana and talk about their jobs. Afterwards, the customary pop and donuts are served.

Hiking Club

The Hiking Club.

The Hiking Club was one of the more active groups this year. Led by sponsor Mr. Vande Kopple, the club went to various parks and wilderness areas for hiking. They also went on an overnight hike to Turkey Run.

Industrial Arts Club

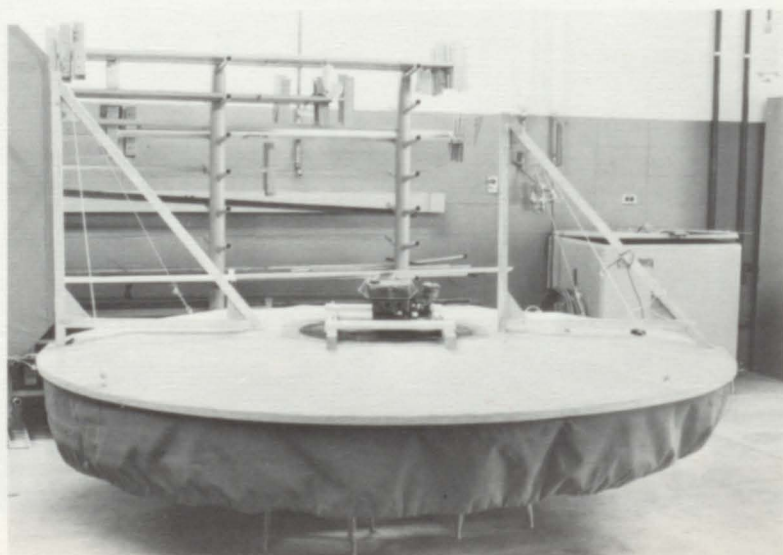

The Industrial Arts Club was in its first active year this school year. Its membership was comprised of guys who were interested in building and rebuilding things.

The big project this year was a contest between the junior and senior members of the club. Each group was to build a land rover out of materials they obtained themselves, and later they were to stage a race between the two machines. The big race never quite made it, though.

The guys were also allowed to work on cars the club had obtained. One car was obtained from a local car dealer, who donated it to the school after the car fell off the delivery truck and had some body damage.

Ride 'em cowboy!

The Martians have landed.

Chess Club

The Chess Club played during the activity periods of the week. It gave the students a chance to play other students and to sharpen their skills at chess. Rev. Bossenbroek was the sponsor and "chess master" who assisted in increasing the members' skills by giving pointers and playing with the kids.

Illiana's 1976-77 Trophy Winners

This year's bowling team was outstanding, even though the team was made up of young players. The bowling club was sponsored by Mr. Vande Berg. This year was the first year for a P.S.L. tournament, and Illiana won. Illiana also has team tournaments, along with doubles and singles tournaments. We hope they keep up the good work in years to come.

"Go, baby, go!"

"I don't believe it; he just dropped the ball on my foot!"

It's all in the facial expression.

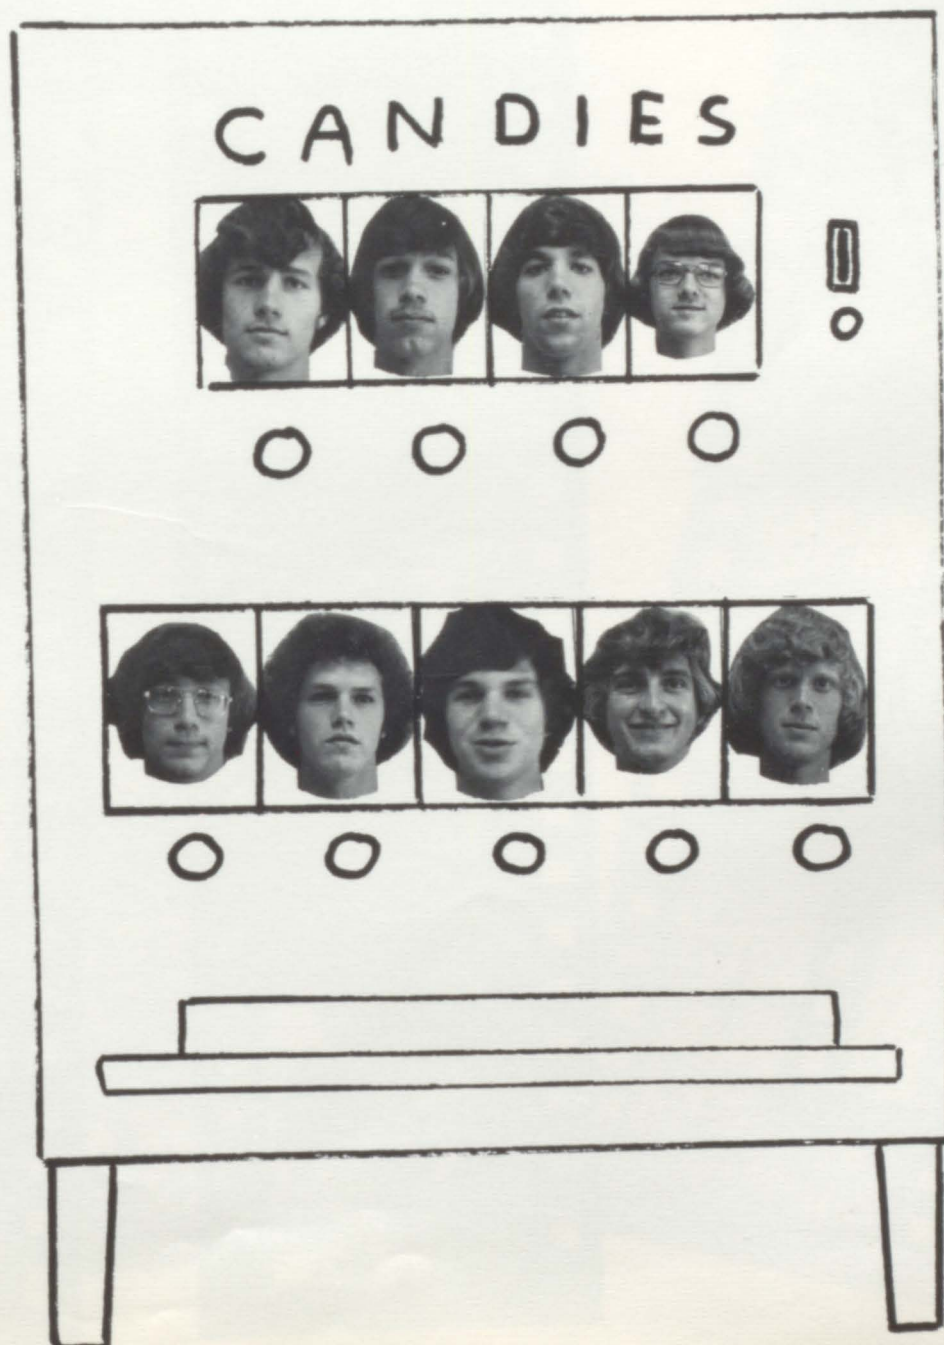

Lettermen's Club

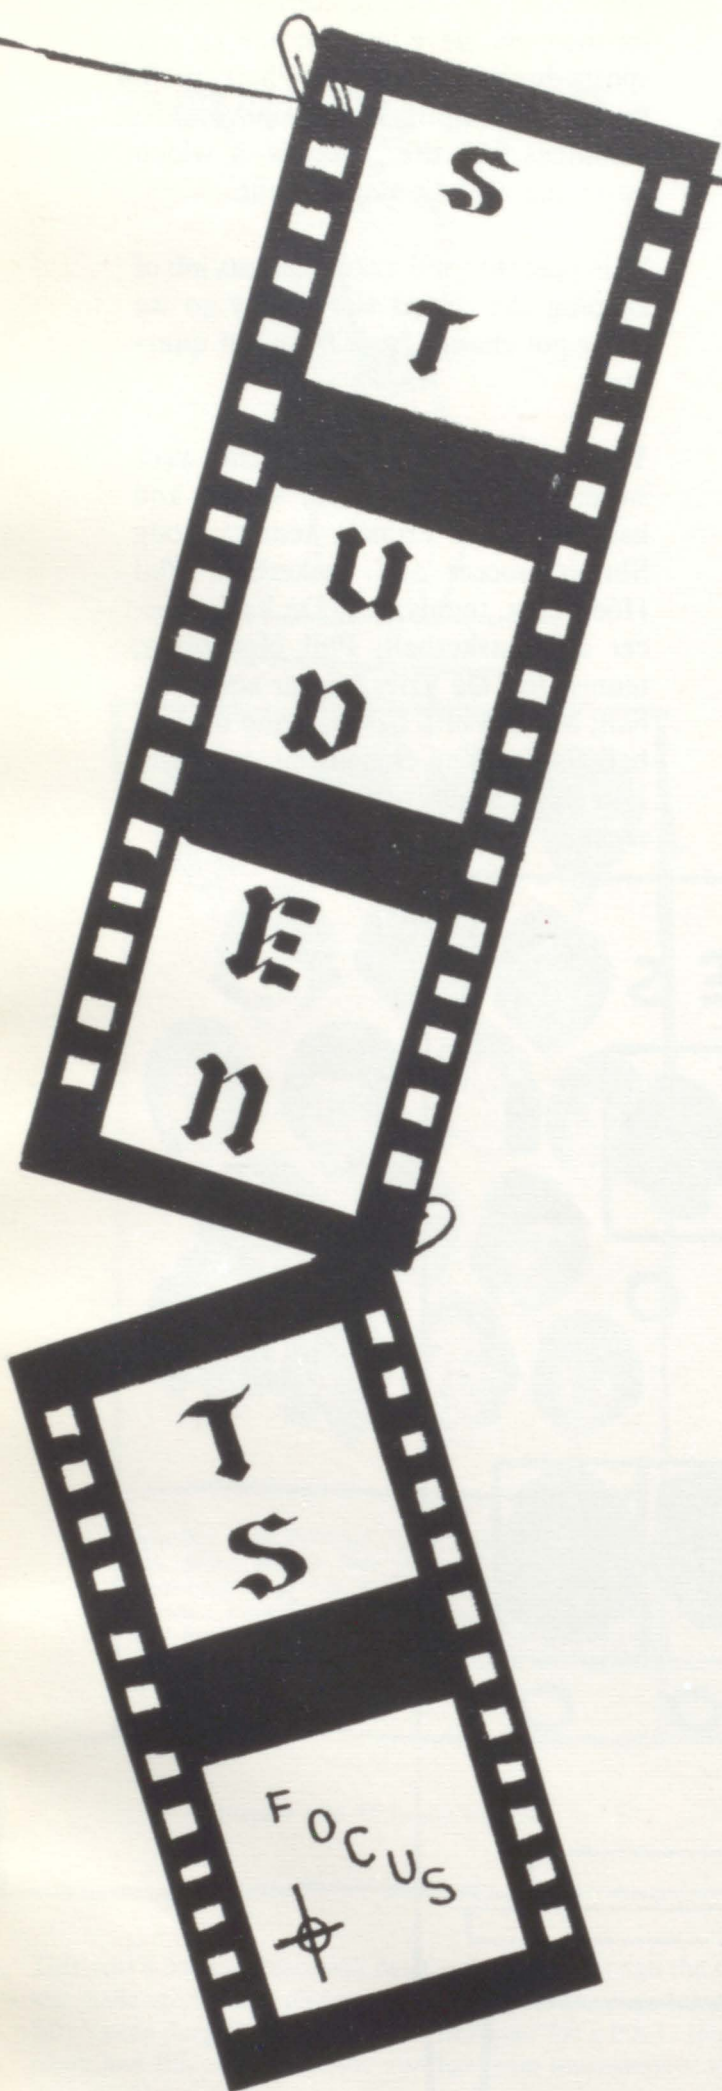

The Lettermen's Club consists of senior men who have lettered in a varsity sport during the year. Their main function is keeping the school vending machines full, the proceeds of which go to the athletic department.

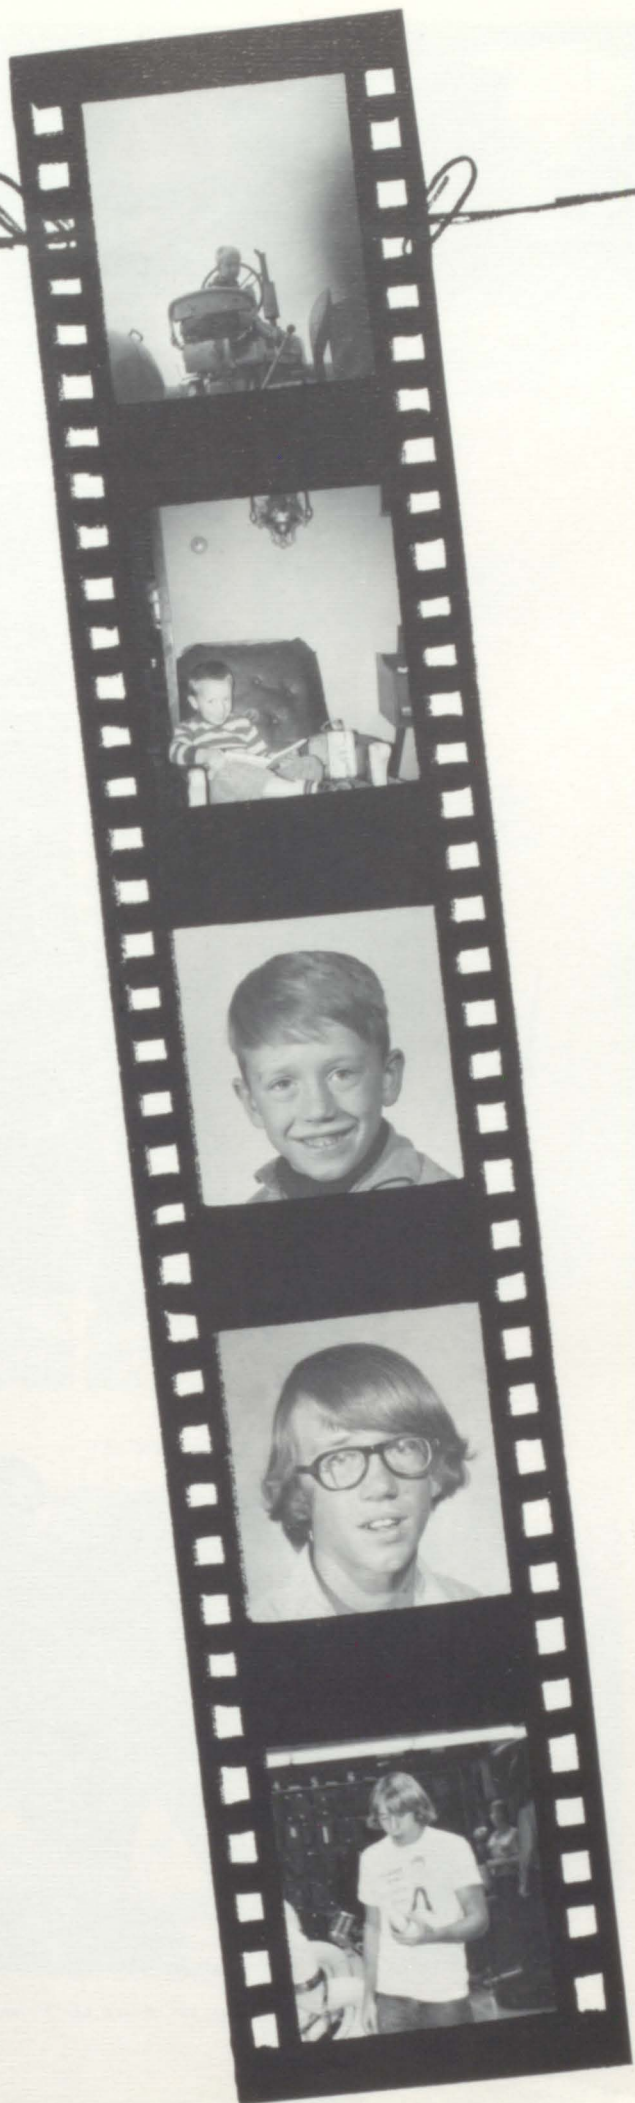

This year they did a tremendous job of keeping the nickel slot empty so we never got change back from our quarters.

The members of the club this year were: Dan Van Drunen, soccer and baseball; Dan Fronek, tennis; Doug Sluiter, soccer and basketball; Phil Hoeksema, tennis; Jeff De Vries, soccer and basketball; Phil Hoeksema, tennis; Jeff De Vries, soccer and baseball; Mike Wolff, baseball and basketball; Daryl Van Schouwen, baseball; Lou Karr, basketball; Brian De Vries, soccer.

On October 25, 1976, the senior class boarded four Mid-America buses for the annual trip to Washington D.C. After a tedious night on the buses, with only three pitstops, we arrived safely in our nation's capital. We stayed there for two days, touring historical sites: the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial, the Smithsonian Institute, the White House, the Capitol, and Arlington Cemetery.

From there we ventured to Pennsylvania. That day we tried to regain some of the energy we had lost on our long D.C. tours by just browsing around colonial Williamsburg. That evening we boarded the buses once again for the mere 15-hour ride back to Illinois.

With all the activity on the buses — 100 pieces of gum stuffed into only two mouths, intense staredowns, card games, and cramming 11 people into one very small lavatory — the time flew by, and we were home before we knew it.

"With a little more water maybe we could clean up the dirty work."

Our Town

"In our town we like to know the facts about everybody."

"And a one, hic, and a two, hic, and a, hic. . . ."

"I don't care if it's not as good as Mrs. Olson's; you're going to drink every drop."

OUR TOWN is especially fitting for this Bicentennial year, because it is a play which examines American values. It was not meant to be simply a picture of small town life in New Hampshire; rather Thornton Wilder intended it, in his words, as "an attempt to find a value above all price for the smallest events in life." It centers around two families and "their living, their growing-up, and their dying." The play is about people, not things, which accounts for and justifies the method of staging. There are no real sets, but only enough concrete elements on the stage to serve as stimuli for our imaginations.

The stage manager moves comfortably in our present world and the world of Grover's Corners; he is the one that causes us to identify with the struggles and emotions of the characters in the play. Thornton Wilder succeeds in making each of us share in the humanity of Grover's Corners, and thus, for each of us, it becomes "Our Town." Emily Webb learns to value the commonplace in life — "clocks ticking, food, coffee, newly-ironed dresses, sleeping, waking-up"; and therein lies a valuable message for each of us.

As Christians, we can look at the vague understanding of the worth and consequence of life which is present in Grover's Corners, as well as in our modern world, and be re-committed to our own beliefs about the value of life. At the end of the play, Simon Stimson accuses the living of being ignorant and blind and constantly in pursuit of "self-centered passions." Perhaps his accusation could at times be applied to our lives as well. We are responsible to God for each day's time and how it is spent. Each day, each person, each incident in our lives is a gift to be appreciated for its uniqueness. All of our yesterdays are forever gone. Did we realize and appreciate their significance and thank God for them?

Fine Arts is always an important part of Illiana's school year. This year's Fine Arts week began with Sietze Buning reading his own poetry on Sunday evening. Throughout the week, 75 or so students displayed their talent by singing, playing an instrument, reading, writing, showing paintings, ceramics, and other artwork. At the end of the week, selected people performed in a program, and certificates were given. Some of the most unexpected people participated in this week of art, showing that God has given all of us some talent.

Jane was the M.C. for the evening.

The students decided to have the 1977 Junior-Senior Banquet in the new gym. The Juniors sold peanuts and popcorn to finance the banquet.

The Juniors put a lot of work into the banquet. The theme was "The Castle," and the gym was transformed into a castle. The entertainment was provided by Mr. Vande Kopple and Mr. Hoogewerf and a group of kids from Calvin College.

Our own Ladies Auxiliary provided the food that was served to the lords and ladies who were attended by sophomore slaves.

Mr. Vande Kopple gives a little background on our historic guest.

The theme for Homecoming 1977 was Melody of Love. The homecoming committee from Student Council attempted to center the evening's events around this theme. Our Vikings battled the Luther South Braves, with the freshmen team starting the night followed by the J.V. team. Then came the highlight of the evening — the crowning of Miss Illiana. The five girls and their escorts came down the runway to the sound of "Feelings," played by the Pep Band. Then came Deb Vander Molen, the 1976 queen, escorted by Steve Hubers. While the crowd waited tensely, Mr. Scott struggled to untangle the microphone cord.

After a slight delay, the mike was brought out on the floor, and Deb announced that Patti Evers was Miss Illiana 1977. To top off the evening, the Varsity Vikes battled the Varsity Braves; during the game, one of the Braves' star players, Jock Hardy, fell and dislocated his ankle. After a slight delay, the paramedic unit arrived to take him to the hospital. After the festivities, the crowd came down to offer Patti congratulations and then went off to their various destinations to finish off a well-rounded and exciting evening.

Whose true nature, Kevin's or Nadine's?

A flourishing artist for Sesame Street?

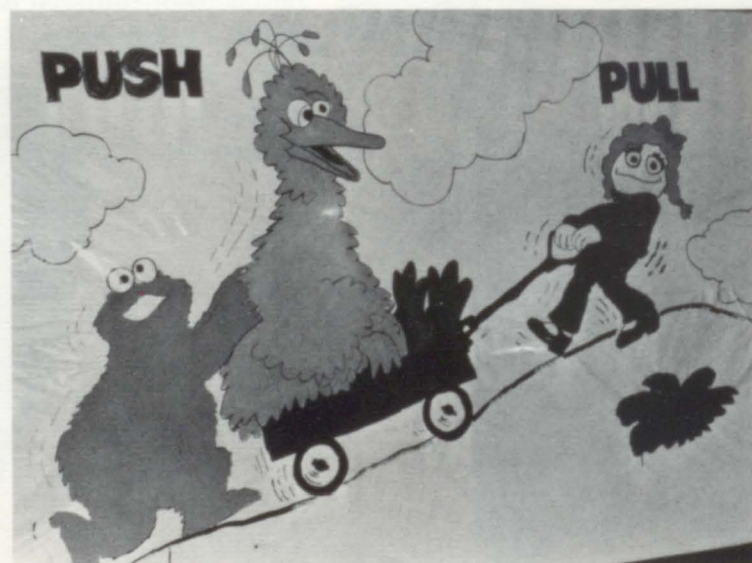

Awards Night

Awards Night was a night to be remembered by all who attended. The theme for this year's Awards Night was Sesame Street. The decorations depicted Sesame Street characters and things they did; there were paintings, stuffed animals and students (who took roles as Sesame Street characters). After the opening devotions and toasts, dinner was served. For dessert there were cookies donated by Cookie Monster himself.

When dinner had ended, the actual presentations began. Many scholarships were given to graduating seniors; Activity and National Honor Society Pins were handed out to students who earned them this year; the departmental awards were given to the students who deserved them the most; Sports awards were given to various players and to Illiana as a whole. The entertainment was enlightening and was taken from actual scenes on Sesame Street. All in all, we had a great, memorable night, the highlight of which was a standing ovation for our departing Miss Schuringa, who recieved the dedication of this book.

Sophomore Tea

The Sophomore Tea was held in the Spring this year as in past years and was well attended by many mothers and daughters. The theme for the Tea was Dutch, and the decorations consisted of pretty blue and white windmill table centerpieces and tulips.

There was plenty of food for everyone, and for dessert, a Dutch treat — Banket! After a duet prose reading by Avis Spyksma and Heidi Deyo, the Sophomore girls presented a Miss Tulip Beauty Pageant to go along with the theme.

The menu for dinner consisted of tacos, enchiladas, chicken and rice, and fruit salad. For dessert there were churos.

After dinner the "stuffed" students went to the new gym to break the two pinatas. Meanwhile, the clean-up committee was busy at work!

Something old

Unique talent was displayed by the many participants in this year's Sac Talent Show. There was a variety of acts: some musical, some humorous, and some serious. "Goldilocks," performed by Christi Lynch and Linda Groenewold, received first place; "The Southpaw," performed by Mary Boerman and Rich Petrie, placed second; and "The Man I Love," performed by Deb Petrie, Russ Terpstra and Tim Kuiper, placed third.

Freshmen Picnic

"Motorboat, motorboat, step on the gas!"

This year student council kept up the tradition of a freshmen picnic in Jurgensen's Woods. The freshmen boarded buses for an afternoon of fun, while they got to know each other better.

They had the usual games of tug-of-war and softball, with swimming for a fortunate few. This year's first was a game called clothesline. In this game the freshies had to get into teams according to homerooms and remove all the clothes they could decently do without and line them up. The homeroom with the longest line was the winner.

Student Council Week

Student Council Week this year included the annual bike day, when several students from De Motte rode their bikes to school along with a few hundred others from closer places; crazy hat and hair day, when we saw the craziness come out in people; and clash day, when we saw everyone's worst taste in clothing displayed.

Twirp + Gentlemen's Week

Buy her heart for 50¢.

This was the first year at Illiana when two consecutive weeks were devoted to date promotion. During Twirp Week, the girls were to ask the guys out for a date and as the word implies, "The Woman Is Required to Pay." During Gentlemen's Week, the guys were requested to take out at least one girl. The two weeks were not a great success, however, because many kids didn't participate. A Kangaroo Court was planned at the end of the two weeks, but was cancelled because many found it unnecessary and unfair.

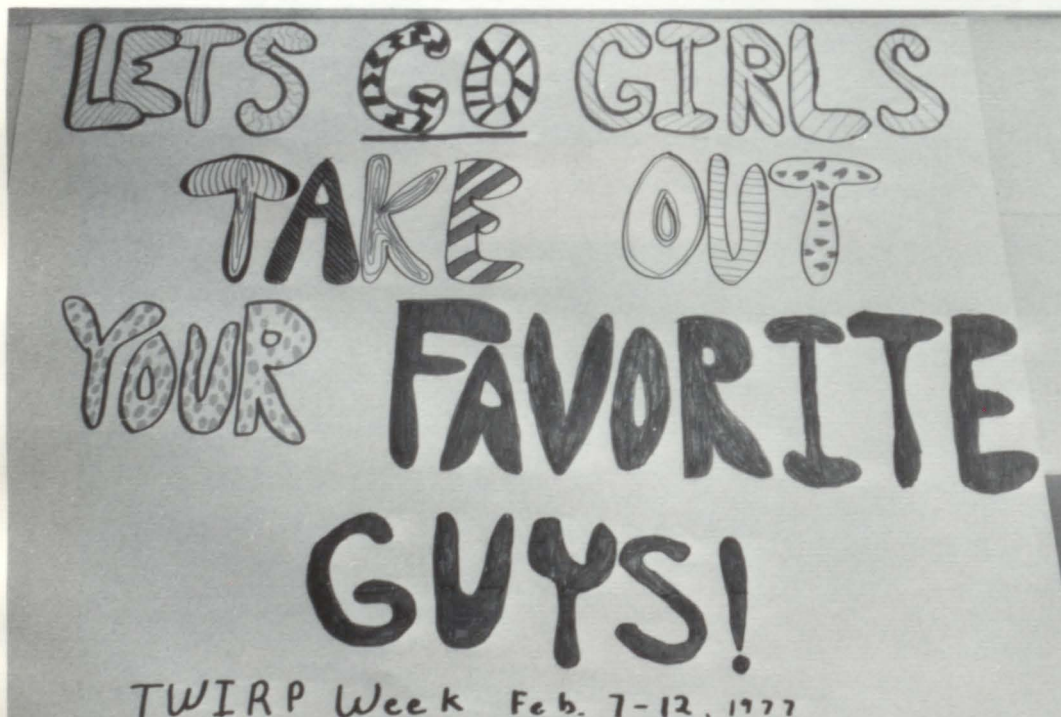

Beauty and the beast?!

"I've got you babe!"

"Sorry, I'm already taken."

Ski Club

The ski club at Illiana is made up of various teachers and students, both expert and amateur, who enjoy skiing. This year, the first ski outing took about 50 students on an overnight trip to Devil's Head Ski Lodge in Wisconsin. On a single-day outing to Alpine Valley, many more students were able to go, and three buses were needed to transport them. Another overnight trip was planned to Devil's Head, but it was called off because of lack of snow.

AEW

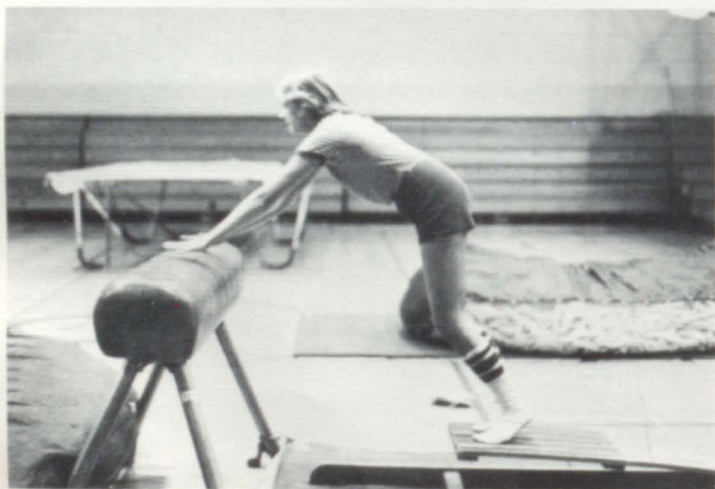

This year's AEW included many new courses, some of which were: a trip to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, when ten students and two instructors spent a week in the north woods; Good Grub for Guys, in which a class full of guys learned to cook for themselves; and the Bill Gothard Seminars on Basic Youth Conflicts, which several students attended. There were also some of the courses from last time, like See Chicago, Chicago Waterways, Folk Art, Macrame, Knitting, Crocheting, and many others.

TENNIS

This year's tennis team consisted of four seniors, one junior, seven sophomores, and two freshmen. Illiana's girls had their ups and downs, but have plans to do better in the future with some of their younger players.

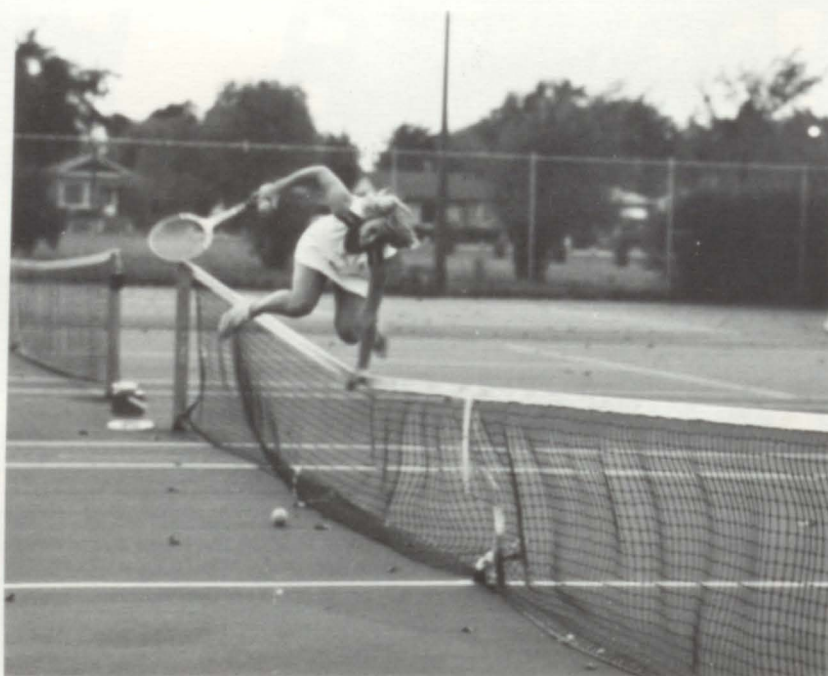

This year, Illiana came in first in a lot of things, and one was sending their first singles player, Cheryl Van Baren, down state.

Tom has trouble controlling his club.

The Varsity and Frosh-Soph golf teams were both good-sized this year. The Varsity team had more games because Frosh-Soph teams are not recognized in the league. The Varsity, led by Lou Karr with a 45.09 average, placed third in the League's Season Standings with a 4-3 won-loss record. This was Mr. De Vries' last year as coach of the teams. The teams ended up with these records:

Frosh-Soph: Dean Dekker, Bill De Boer, Dave De Jong, Rob De Vries, Keith Koopmans, Dirk Recker, Ron Witvoet, Bill Zandstra.

This year's freshman squad was coached by Mr. Voetberg, and the J.V. or sophomore squad by Mr. Stob.

The J.V. squad had a good season with 10 wins and 2 losses. The freshman's record was not quite as good.

Larry Lyzenga, a sophomore, was moved up to play varsity soccer later in the year.

Girls' Volleyball

The varsity volleyball team of 1976 ended a successful season with a record of 8-6, which put them in third place. The highlight of the year was the second place trophy won at the P.S.L. Tournament. The J.V. team ended their season in second place with an 8-3 record.

Girl's Basketball

This year the Illiana girls' basketball team took first place in the Private School League and tournament. Illiana girls lost only three out of twenty games in the season, while the J.V.'s won all nine of their games. This was the first year the state of Illinois had a state championship tournament for girls. The team went to the sub-regionals and on to the regionals to win against T.F. South by one point, and then lost to Homewood-Flossmoor in the next game. But considering the size of Illiana and other things, the girls really did great. Illiana's Cheryl Van Baren was chosen as one of The TIMES' 1976-77 All-Star Players while Deb Dykstra was recognized with Honorable Mention.

Cheerleaders

"Move it, Vikings, move it."

Chicken wings, anyone?

The truth of the matter.

The Varsity Cheerleaders were chosen last year. During the summer they went to camp to learn new cheers. The J.V. Cheerleaders were chosen this year. They were taught cheers by the Varsity squad.

The cheerleaders raised money for camp and their uniforms by selling donuts during break. They cheered at all of the games, and the J.V.'s even cheered at some of the wrestling matches.

Varsity: Denise Terpstra, Karen Boonstra, Jenine Vander Wal, Pat Boender, Marcia Santefort, Linda Jabaay, Patti Schaap.

Freshmen Basketball

Being a freshman basketball player isn't as easy as some say it is. It requires trying out in the early fall, practicing after school, and drilling on one's own. This year's freshmen team did quite well under the rookie coaching of Mr. Rudenga with a record of 18 wins and 6 losses. Even though there wasn't a regular PSL league for the freshmen, they finished with 11 wins and 1 loss against the PSL schools that they did compete against. There wasn't a PSL tournament for the freshmen, but they did place third in the Chicago Christian Invitational Tournament.

After playing Freshmen Basketball in their first year at Illiana, the freshmen decided to try JV Basketball their next year. After trying out in the early fall and making the team, the JV players started to practice and drill for a hopefully successful season. The JV's ended their season with a record of 13 wins and 6 losses. There was only one tournament for the JV team to participate in, which was the Quigley South Tournament held during Christmas vacation. It was unfortunate that they didn't do as well as they had hoped, ending the tournament with a 0-2 record.

This year, the boys' varsity basketball team had a very successful season. With the help of Mr. Van Dellen, basketball at Illiana has turned in the winning direction. The team was led this year by the seniors — Mike Biesboer, Al Hoekstra, Lou Karr, Doug Sluiter, Scott Poortenga, Mike Wolff — who expressed good attitudes and a sincere desire to win. A lot of great playing was also exhibited by the underclassmen on the team.

The season began with the PSL Tournament, and even though Illiana finished in third place, the team displayed good team work and everyone was impressed. Great play continued right up to the last game of the season when Illiana lost to Chicago Christian in the IHSA Tournament. The season contained a few dissappointments, but the team ended up with a fine record of 18 wins and 9 losses.

Girls' Track

The Girls' track team as a whole did not win any meets this year, but there were a few individuals who did well in their events. Especially strong was the 880 Medley Relay team, which consisted of Jill Hoogewerf, Deb Dykstra, Laura Smits, and Joyce Broertjes; and a new school record of 5'0" was set in the high jump by Jill Hoogewerf.

Tennis

As every sport, tennis takes a lot of practice and work. To make the team one must try out, practice nearly every night after school and also on his own. The Frosh-Soph team's efforts were well rewarded by ending the season with a record of 9 wins and 3 losses, and by taking 1st place in the Frosh-Soph PSL Tournament. The Varsity took 4th place in the Varsity PSL Tournament.

Boys' Track

The boys' track team this year proved to be very impressive in spite of its lack of experience. There were only two seniors on the team, but the underclassmen did a fine job competing on the varsity level. The frosh-soph squad showed its talent by placing first in the PSL Meet and second in the Wooden Shoe Meet. Bob Meldrum was the Most Valuable Player this year, and Ken Jellema was the Most Improved.

Team members: Dan Lyzenga, Joel Van Drunen, Larry Lyzenga, Tom Stallinga, Dirk Recker, Brad Dykstra, Pete Campbell, Duane Bosman, Glenn Schuringa, Dave Feikema, Paul Schaap, Bob Meldrum, Mark Olson, Tom Miedema, Bruce Boomsma, Jeff Boender, Doug Brouwer, Randy Lagestee, Dave Allen. Coach: Mr. Van Noord.

"Look at that time!!"

J.V. Baseball

The J.V. baseball team is made up of freshmen and sophomore guys who hope to make the Varsity team when their junior year rolls around. The J.V. team usually doesn't get much recognition, and they deserve more credit than they get. They work as hard as the Varsity team.

Move over, Johnny Bench.

Where have you gone, Joe Di Maggio?

Varsity Baseball

The Varsity Baseball team did a commendable job this year. Their goal at the beginning of the year was to better last year's record, which they did under the direction of rookie coach Scott. The season was a good one, with such highlights as Russ Terpstra's unexpected homerun and Mike Wolff's Kermit-the-frog act, which he did for the edification of an umpire who obviously didn't know the difference between out and safe.

Daryl hits the showers.

Our most loyal fan — Jeffrey's mom.

Babe Ruth?

Tim keeps a watchful eye on first.

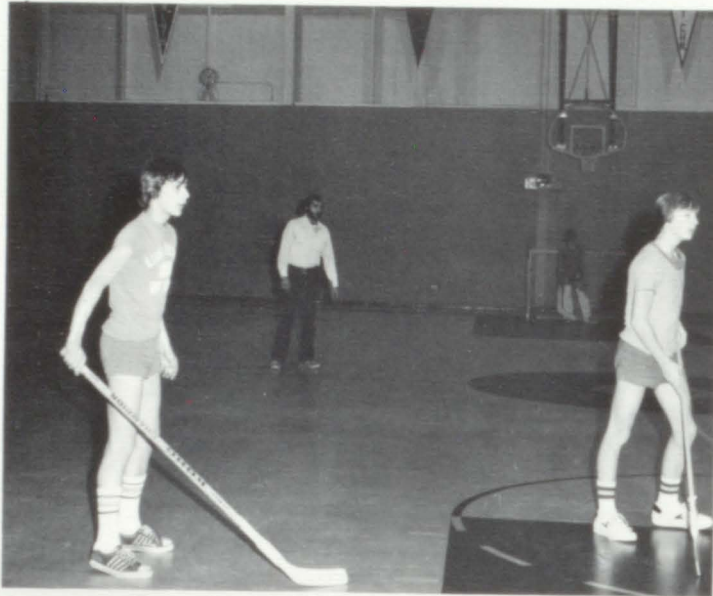

Intramurals

For boys' intramurals this year there was football, basketball, wrestling, and floor hockey. For girls' there was volleyball, basketball, and baseball.

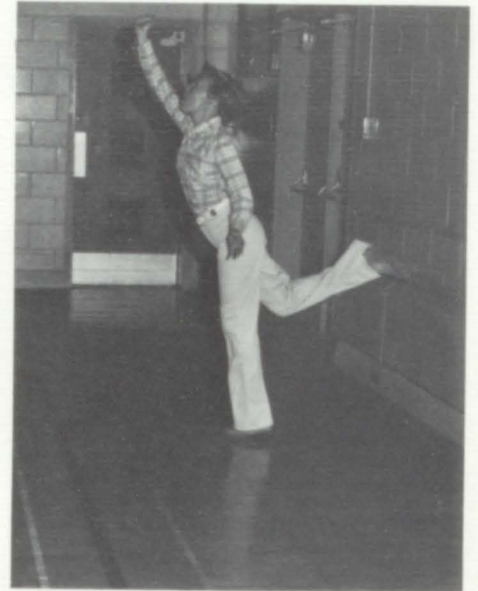

We didn't have the usual faculty — student football, basketball games this year, but the participation by the student body in intramurals was good.

Notice the fancy uniforms.

Graduation

"Help!"

The "thrill" of victory.

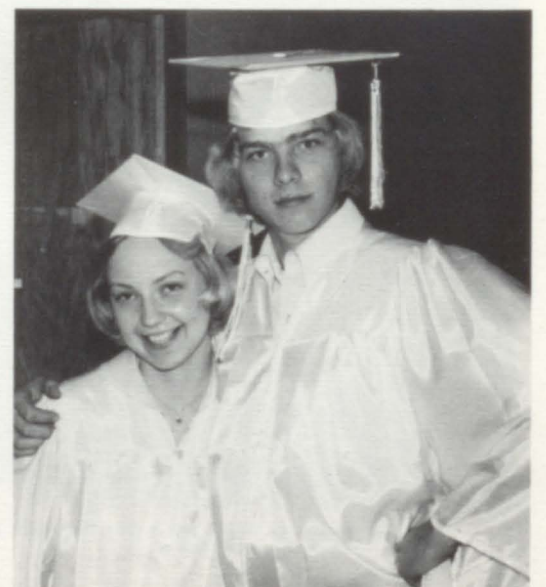

Scott and his woman.

Trish anticipating the future.

"At least I can be sure my diploma is signed."

Scott and his other woman?

Graduation was probably the last time we, 174 seniors, would be together in one body. Graduation was what all of us had striven for four years — it was a time of mixed emotions — reflection and anticipation, joy and sorrow, smiles, hugs, and tears. Some of us will go on to college, some will have jobs, some will work in the home. Wherever you go, we pray that God will bless each one and give him guidance.

"Alice, you're still wet behind the ears!"

The underclassmen band members play at graduation for the first time.

"Graduation sure is fun!"

"Adios mis alumnos!"

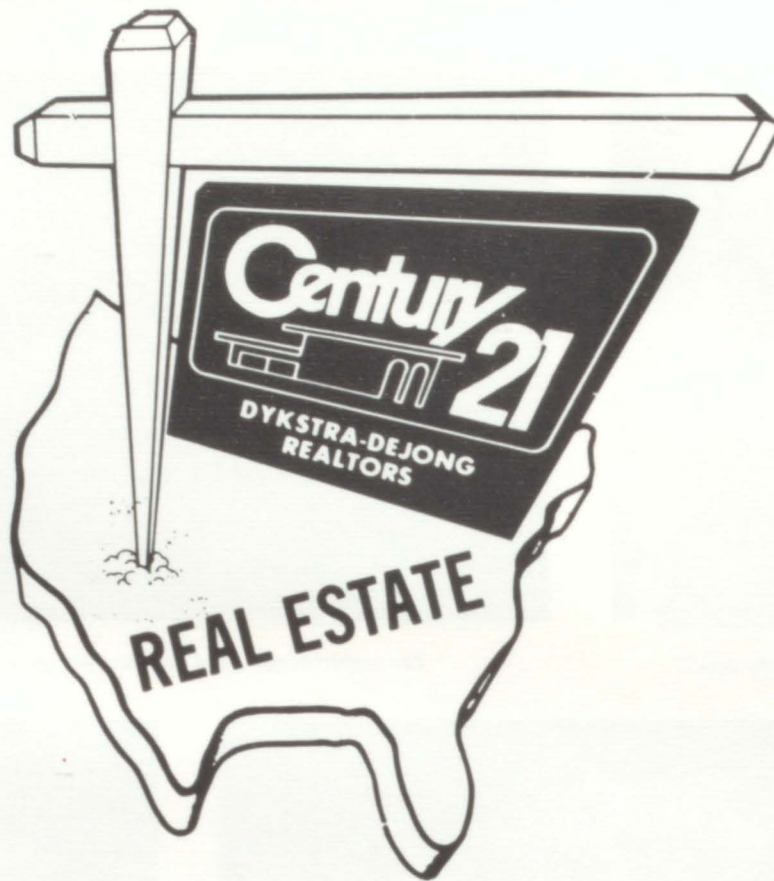

"Fred, I made it!"

So, they were desperate for Jr. flag bearers.
